You Can Eliminate Sneak Thievery At Central

It has happened again! Two wallets were stolen from two people in the new gymnasium last Monday afternoon.

By all means, this isn't a topic of discussion which hasn't been brought up before; on the contrary, it is an old story which happens much too often on our campus.

In the latest robbery the exact amount of money and valuables stolen are unknown, but even if it be an empty wallet, the sneak-thieves or thief should be punished.

The Crier office hasn't been notified of any other robberies this quarter as yet, but this is enough in itself to again warn all of the students to beware of where they leave their personal possessions.

Quoting one of last quarter's editorials written by former editor Bob Slingland: "Everyone can help by doing several things: (1) Never leave your wallet or money anywhere unless the place can be locked. (2) Do not carry excessive amounts of money to the gyms for P.E. classes. (3) Lock the door to your room whenever you aren't there. (4) Take particular notice of strange faces that are noticed in dormitories during any time of the day or evening when there are not many people in." Here is an elaboration of Mr. Slingland's advice:

If you have more money than you wish to carry on your person, open an account with a bank and remove any chance of losing large amounts of money. Special rates have been established for college students and with this thievery going on it might prove profitable to open an account. If the students don't follow these precautions, they leave themselves open to being robbed.

Doesn't it seem a shame that it has to be admitted we have people here who would steal from their fellow students? Perhaps we are training future teachers who are sneak-thief, isn't that a wholesome thought, future teachers who are perhaps thieves and they are to teach our children, they are to mold the personalities of our future citizens.

If any student finds anyone who they can prove has stolen from any person attending this college, it is not only your duty but a service to the entire college that you report these students to the Honor Council.

There is no place in college life for a thief. If any person is apprehended and brought before the Honor Council charged with stealing and the council finds the charge to be true it is apparent they have no other choice but to ask that student or students to withdraw from college.

CONCERT CHOIR TOUR WEST. WASHINGTON ANNUAL SPRING TRIP

Highlighting this year's tour to western Washington by the Central concert choir will be a direct broadcast over radio station KOMO in Seattle on the evening of April 22, according to Wayne S. Hertz, choir director. The trip will be from April 17 to 22.

The broadcast, on the "Voices of the Northwest" program, will climax a five day tour of the western portion of the state by the choir. They will appear before several high school audiences and church groups during the trip.

Picked from an original group of 135 students, the 70-voice choir has prepared a varied program of choral selections ranging from the most serious and difficult to light humorous numbers.

Choir Program

Of the more serious nature will be the double chorus number "Hail Gladdening Light", written by the English composer, Charles Wood; "Alleluia" by Randall Thompson and "O Lord God" by Tschernokoff. In a lighter vein will be the Fred Waring arrangement of "Low Lands", an arrangement of "Alouette", the familiar French Folk song, and a setting of the MacGim-

Speaker To Be Here This Morning At 10:00

Dr. Alonzo Meyers, professor of higher education at New York University, will lecture on various aspects of teacher education, Thursday, April 14, at 10 o'clock a.m.

Dr. Meyers has been very interested and active in education work. This year he is touring the U. S. to visit a cross section of colleges and universities, thus familiarizing himself with the different procedures and administrations. He is the author of several books on education and is widely recognized in his field.

His scheduled time at C.W.C.E. is all day Thursday, and interested faculty members as well as students are invited to meet him at any time during the day.

SOLOIST FOR HANDEL'S 'MESSIAH'

Two theatre parties are scheduled for the oncoming Easter Weekend, Friday and Saturday nights.

Scheduled for Friday night's entertainment is "Son of Frankenstein" and "Made for Each Other." A colored short, "Salt Water Wonderland" is also to be shown Friday evening.

At the time the "Crier" was being made up, Wilbur Chinn SGA vice-president didn't know if the films he had requested for Saturday night would be available, but there will be a theatre party none the less.

NOTICE TO INTERCLUB AND S.G.A. MEMBERS

All interclub and SGA council members are urged to be in the CES auditorium today at four o'clock to meet and hear Dr. Alonzo Meyers, nationally known educator. He has met with student governments throughout the nation and is well qualified to discuss problems of student government.

National Scholarship Plan Presented By Educators

Principles for legislation to establish a national scholarship program for college students were recommended at the National Conference on Higher Education in Chicago last week, according to Pres. Robert E. McConnell of Central Washington College of Education, who returned to the campus Monday.

MESSIAH PRESENTED IN COLL. AUDITORIUM

BY JOHN EYRES

"The Messiah" by Handel was presented last Sunday evening before a good-sized gathering of local residents and students in the college auditorium.

The annual presentation was given by the Central music department and members of local church choirs, who combined in a large chorus under the directorship of Wayne S. Hertz, and a concert orchestra lead by Herbert A. Bird.

Four selected soloists were featured in the production; Miss Margaret Scruggs, soprano and member of the Central music department; Miss Lois McKnight, a well-known junior with a beautiful contralto voice; Daniel Preston, local tenor; and Stephen Hobson, bass from the college music staff. Each soloist contributed considerably to the presentation of the show.

The combined 150-voice chorus has practiced for "The Messiah" since the early part of the year, and showed last week that practice was certainly not in vain.

Special mention should go to the three accompanists, who so wonderfully blended into the background of the entire presentation. They were Miss Juanita Davies, piano, Miss Tekla Hertz, piano, and Lawrence Moe, organ.

Key points which should be considered in drafting scholarship legislation, according to recommendations of the conference, are:

(1) That such legislation recognize the responsibilities of the state for the control and administration of the program.

(2) That such scholarships be granted and administered by a state educational committee or authority designated or established by the state for that purpose, to students of demonstrated competence to benefit from the type of program sought, with such additional factors taken into account as may be deemed necessary by the state educational committee or authority.

(3) That funds be distributed among the states on the basis of a formula which takes into account both the population of college age and the number of high school graduates within the state.

(4) That the funds go directly from the state authority to the individual student to be used for any necessary expenses in attending any higher education institution approved by the state authority or by the voluntary regional accrediting agency.

(5) That the legislation recognize that the scholarships must be of sufficient value to afford real relief to the able student who is now unable to attend for economic reasons, and at the same time be sufficiently flexible to permit recognition of the variability in costs of different types of programs at different levels of higher education.

(6) That the legislation provide for periodic revision of any specific

LET'S GET THOSE PETITIONS IN

While the petition filing deadline rapidly approaches potential candidates for major as well as other SGA offices play "now you guess what I'm going to do" with their possible opposition.

By all means any office having something to do with our student government association is open to any responsible student meeting with the requirements called for in the SGA constitution, and the matter of filing for an office should be carefully considered by any potential candidate, but time is drawing short.

April 18 is the closing date for all petitions and election day has been set for the 26 of April. Offices are open for president, vice-president, secretary, representatives and honor council members.

By now campaigns should be started, for the election carries double significance; the election of officers and honor council members as well as a vigorous campaign which will bring out as large a number of voters as last year's election, if not larger. We have established an enviable record and we should want to keep it, but if there isn't a lively campaign we stand chance of losing this record.

Petitions for representatives from student dormitories and other groups are now being circulated, but each house must have three petitions filed by the deadline date. If enough petitions are not filed, the Interclub Council will nominate students at their meeting coming this Monday night.

Qualifications for all offices outside of the Honor Council are: 40 hours of college credit and a "C" average at the time of taking office. A man and woman are to be elected to Honor Council office.

Let's quit playing "hide and seek" and get these petitions in. Let's break our own record by presenting campaigns that will bring out 100 per cent of the voters. The time for action has long past, it shouldn't be necessary for the Interclub Council to nominate candidates for offices lacking petitions; there should be enough initiative among the students themselves to see ample petitions carrying the names of competent candidates are filed before the deadline, next Monday.

A TRIBUTE TO LITTLE KATHY

Although thousands may be killed in a day in some war in foreign lands, little note is made in newspapers, radios, or magazines. But when a little three and one half year old girl tumbles into a vacated well shaft the entire world is moved.

People throughout the United States were glued to their radios following every move in Santa Marino, California with a prayer on their lips that little Kathy might still be alive. Men from every walk of life volunteered their services, many risking their own lives trying to save the life of this little girl.

Isn't it wonderful? Isn't it heart warming to know that America can draw together and put all effort out trying to help out a helpless child?

Although Kathy is dead, and according to the family physician's opinion had been dead shortly after her fall, this fatality will probably go down in history; a tribute to Americans and their willingness to help out in a pinch.

EASTER IS A TIME OF WORSHIP

A season of mourning and then a season of joy is rapidly approaching Christians everywhere. Tomorrow is Good Friday, commemorated in memory of the death of Jesus Christ. Then two days later is Easter Sunday, celebrating the resurrection of the Son of God.

Although we aren't a religious sponsored college, we are Christians none the less. Special Good Friday church services are being prepared by the local churches. Morning Easter services are scheduled by all the churches.

This college has gained the reputation of being a non-church attending institution, concerning the students. Why not disprove this theory by attending church during Holy Week at one of the local churches. However, don't go to church just to disprove the above theory, but go to church to help celebrate the resurrection of Jesus Christ, Easter Sunday.

World Peace Is America's Task Claims Lecturer

"Now it is America's turn to arise and make a contribution, to prepare for world peace and to accept the challenge put forth by the world as a whole," acclaimed Mrs. Walter Robinson, world traveler and history teacher, during an assembly last week. She lectured here the first time about two years ago.

A native of California and a graduate of the University of California, Mrs. Robinson has circled the globe once and is planning a second around-the-world trip this year.

World History Told

She presented to the gathered audience a brief summarization of world history from the time of the ancient Greeks up to the present. Throughout the lecture she brought out the importance of past happenings and their relation to people.

"One can't study or teach any subject in this modern world, whether it be science, mathematics, language or any other course," she explained, without a complete understanding of its history."

Since the Treaty of Verdun, when Charlemagne divided his land among his three grandsons; the Rhine River valley, Mrs. Robinson pointed out, has been a point of contention as was evidenced in the past war.

America Now Top Country

Her lecture, she said, showed the rise of one country as another declined, and then, the subsequent fall of this country and the rise of another. America is now at the top of its rise and must take advantage of it.

"The sixteenth century marked the beginning of modern history," she asserted, "but it also was the beginning of capitalism, mass production, worldliness, and a new concept leading to nationalism and to wars."

Eyres Elected To Be Frosh Prexy

John Eyres was elected to the post of president of the freshman class at a meeting held last week. He replaces the retiring president, Robert Byrnie, and will serve during spring quarter.

Polling a large portion of the 50 votes that were cast for the position of vice-president was Patricia Burnham, who replaces Verna Jones. Holding the minutes of the meeting and the financial record is Richard Martinen, secretary-treasurer. Rosemary Board held the position winter quarter.

As was the custom last quarter, two social commissioners were elected. They are Peggy Chestnut and Jack Snyder, who will take the place of Marilyn Dreher and Ray Cain, vacating commissioners.

Experience will again prove abundant in the new council. Both Eyres and Martinen served as vice-presidents of the Senior class in their respective high schools, Lincoln of Tacoma and Chehalis.

Chestnut and Snyder have both worked on social committees for the freshman class during the year and consequently are familiar with the ropes used by social commissioners.

It's great kindness to trust people with a secret. They feel so important while telling it to others.

The way fishermen catch fish is by the tale.

History Is Sawdust

"History is too often given to students in jig-saw bits, and they fail to see the big picture," declared Mrs. Robinson.

"Exact dates are sawdust in the mouths of students of history," the speaker said, and following her philosophy, she urged that the time of any historical event be remembered in relation to an era or a century and as part of the whole picture.

Educators Attend Spokane Ed. Meet

Central Washington College was well-represented at the Inland Empire Education Association meeting in Spokane last week with no less than 12 faculty members attending.

Those attending were: Dr. E. E. Samuelson, director of placement and personnel; Dr. Charles W. Saale, chairman of the division of education and psychology; Ernest L. Muzzall, director of instruction; Harold Barto, professor of history; Dr. Lewis W. Burnett, assistant professor of education; Dr. Harold Williams, chairman of the division of social science; Dr. A. J. Foy Cross, director of audio-visual aids; Donald Thompson, professor of education; Miss Mary Simpson, associate professor of education; Miss Frances Shuck, assistant professor of education; and Miss Alice Marie Jensen, assistant professor of education.

Central Washington Alumni met at a special luncheon arranged by the college during the three day convention. It was held at the Eagles Lodge in Spokane. Dr. Samuelson also set up a placement office in the Davenport Hotel.

Social Democracy Club Meeting

The Atlantic Charter was given a round-robin discussion Wednesday evening by members of the Student League for Social Democracy who met in the Administration building room 203 for their regular meeting of the week.

Election of officers for the spring quarter and mapping out a campaign to acquire new membership for the organization were the order of the day.

The members of the Student League For Social Democracy feel that their meetings fill a definite need for serious thought about the campus. "Perhaps there is no place for serious meetings on this campus", was a statement made by one of the members recently who noticed the sharp decline in members attendance at quarter's end meetings.

"Just three meetings attended puts you on the membership rolls" states John Churchill, an active participant in the club, and three absences takes you off. ".... A very painless process, don't you think?"

There are no dues and participation is generally in the round table discussions that occupy the members, who are trying to work up interest in international affairs.

Pay attention to what a man is, not to what he has been.

V.A. Offers Aid To All Veterans

Veterans who have personal problems of such nature that vocational readjustment or rehabilitation cannot be successfully effected without assistance may now consult with the Personal Adjustment Counseling service set up by the Veterans Administration, it was announced by the office of the dean of men this week.

The object of the personal adjustment counseling is to help veterans work out their problems and to talk them over with a competent counselor. A few of the problems now facing some veterans are: difficulties in social adjustment; failure to adjust to academic work; difficulties caused by uncertainties of aims and purposes; undue worry and feelings of inadequacy and worthlessness; problems of parent-child relationship; marital difficulties and problems; and inability to adjust to the job.

Counseling is available to all veterans and not to just student GI's alone. All services of the VA may refer individuals to the counselor. Matters discussed are held in confidence and do not become part of the veteran's record.

The professional philosophy of the counseling, as expressed by the VA, is to help the individual to help himself in developing his capacity to cope with life on an independent basis. It is the counselor's function to provide an understanding and

Local Seniors To Visit The College

An invitation has been extended to the Ellensburg high school seniors by the Administrative Women in Education for a senior day to be held on this campus Tuesday, April 19 starting at 10:00 a.m.

Seniors will gather in the college auditorium about 9:40 a.m. and hear short descriptive orientation as to what each department here at Central has to offer the prospective college student. Giving these orientations will be majors and participants in the various fields not only departmental courses, but extracurricular activities as well.

Starting at 10:00 a.m. Dr. Harold S. Williams, head of the social science department, will officially open the day's program with an address. Following Dr. Williams address, Miss Juanita Davies and Stephen Hobson, both of the music department will present some musical permissive atmosphere in which the veteran may get a fresh slant on his problem. The counselor does not ask probing questions, criticize the client's symptoms, nor offer him advice.

Interested veterans may make an appointment to see the counselor on Monday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in the dean of men's office.

numbers. Don Dowie, SGA president will then give a welcome address to all the visiting seniors.

Glaydes Baker and Jeannette Ware then sign up the visitors for class visitations. The high school seniors have their choice of the classes they wish to visit. A campus tour will conclude the day's activities.

In charge of the organization for the planning of all activities is Margaret Ankeny, president of the Administrative Women in Education, and instructor with the college in the elementary school.

Cafeteria service will be offered to the students in Sue Lombard dining hall for the 12:00 noon lunch. The Spurs, Intercollegiate Knights and future teachers will act as guides assisting in this program.

"Daddy, may I ask you a question?"

"Yes, son but it must be a short one."

Mrs. Wade Retained For Spring Quarter

Mrs. Cordelia Wade, housemother at Montgomery Hall, men's dormitory, will remain on the campus for the rest of this quarter, the personnel office announced this week.

Since no replacement was available, the State Employees Retirement System has allowed her an extension until the end of the present quarter in June.

Spanish Professor Former Symphony Concert Master

By Muriel White

The ambition to get the students and public to realize that foreign language study is not just dry memorization of verb forms, but instead a living and vitally interesting field of study belongs to Assistant Professor of French and Spanish, Dennis Hannon.

Mr. Hannon has not had the opportunity to become acquainted with the majority of students due to the fact foreign languages are not required in any field of study here at Central.

To give an introduction of Mr. Hannon to the students it is necessary and interesting to look into his background. Few people may know that Mr. Hannon was concert master of the Seattle Symphony Orchestra for seven years. He is an accomplished violinist and will demonstrate his ability in a concert May 7 in the C E S auditorium. Accompanying him will be Miss Juanita Davies, well known member of the music department. The concert will be presented in the evening at 8:15.

Mr. Hannon taught here at CWCE in 1946-47, later teaching at Fresno State College in 1947-48. Previous to this he studied and received degrees from the University of Washington, later doing graduate study at the University of California and at U.C.L.A.

Mr. Hannon studied the languages along with his music in France before World War II. He received a certificate from the American Conservatory at Fontainbleau, France. Mr. Hannon studied under Renny and Pascal while in France.

During World War II, Mr. Hannon served as a translator for the Naval Reserve in both French North Africa and Italy. In addition to this experience he has had two years private instruction in both French and Spanish here in the United States. Two trips to Mexico have supplemented his studies in Spanish.

In an interview Mr. Hannon stated that his experience over-seas proved to him the tremendous value of knowledge of foreign languages in gaining the good will and cooperation of other people. He felt that a fair knowledge of foreign language makes it possible for us to understand the way of life of other people in the various countries.

In order to become better acquainted with Mr. Hannon and to spend an enjoyable evening, students and the general public are welcome to attend the concert at 8:15 p. m. May 7 in the C. E. S. auditorium.

ADDITIONAL FACULTY AUTHORIZED BY BOARD OF TRUSTEES HERE

Five new positions were authorized, two promotions approved and three resignations accepted on the faculty of Central Washington College of Education at the regular quarterly meeting of the board of trustees yesterday afternoon, Pres. Robert E. McConnell said today.

Addition of five new positions to the college staff was made necessary because of the increased enrollment in the college divisions and the new secondary teacher training program, Dr. McConnell said. No appointments have been made as yet to fill the new positions, which will take effect at the beginning of the autumn term.

Places to be filled are: One in secondary education; one in social science; one in physical education; one in music; and one as supervisor of student teaching. The one in secondary education will probably have the rank of associate professor and the others will probably be instructors, Dr. McConnell said.

Promotions approved by the board are Carl G. Johnson, instructor in science and mathematics, to assistant professor, and Shelton D. Kem, instructor in physical education, to assistant professor.

Miss Margaret Miller, circulation librarian, will resign at the end of the spring term to accept a position as head of the circulation department in the library of the University of Wyoming at Laramie. Mrs. Isabel Tullis, reference librarian will also resign at the end of the spring term to become catalog librarian at Portland University. Miss Barbara J. Adam, instructor in home economics, will resign from the college staff at the end of the summer term to be married.

Dr. McConnell announced that Miss Jean Marie Olliver has been elected instructor in home economics to replace Miss Adam. She is a graduate of McGill University, Toronto, Ontario, and received her master of science degree from Kansas State College. She will join the college staff at the beginning of the autumn term.

Members of the college board of trustees who met with Dr. McConnell yesterday afternoon are Victor J. Bouillon of Ellensburg, chairman; Don M. Tunstall of Yakima, and Charles A. Kennedy of Stratford.

Canterbury Club Represented In Tacoma Conclave

Central Washington College was represented at the Canterbury Club Conference at the Annie Wright Seminary in Tacoma last weekend by three delegates from the local club.

Those attending the conference from Central were Doug Poage, president, Donna Richmond and Conrad Mather. Motoring over with them was the Reverend Jack McCarty, rector of Grace Episcopal Church and the local club's chaplain.

Colleges and Universities represented at this conclave were: University of Idaho, Moscow; Washington State College, Pullman; Central Washington College, Ellensburg; University of Washington, Seattle; Western Washington College, Bellingham; Oregon State College, Corvallis; University of Oregon, Eugene; Willamette University, Salem; College of Puget Sound, Tacoma; and Linfield College outside of Portland, Oregon.

The conference was under the supervision of The Reverend Dave Cockeran, chaplain at the University of Washington in Seattle. Guest speaker for the conference was The Reverend Paul Oliver of St. Paul's Church in Seattle. He spoke on what the college student can do in respect to evangelism. After his lecture the conference broke up into four divisions, apologetics, action, prayer and program. These discussion groups appointed a secretary who in turn presented the respective group's findings to the delegation in one of the afternoon sessions.

THIRD GRADE HAS PLAY ABOUT EARLY KITTITAS

The Third Grade class of the College Elementary School has been studying about pioneer life in the Kittitas Valley. On Wednesday, April 6, the study was culminated with an original play, "School Days in Early Kittitas."

Miss Leta May Smith, daughter of a pioneer in the Kittitas area, was able to answer most of the children's questions about the first schools in the valley. Using this information and actual incidents, the boys and girls developed the scenes of the play and used their own dialogue.

Such pioneers as the Stepp family, Dr. Marcer, Mr. Snyder and the Shaser family were found in the dramatization. Mr. Ford the young teacher from the Dalles, was responsible for the beginnings of education in the valley.

Mr. Herbert Bird as Grandpa Wheeler provided the "fiddling" for the square dancing in the final scene. Miss Ankeney, room supervisor, called the dances.

Band's Informal Has Big Turnout

The swish of "party dress skirts" and rhythmic tapping of high heels, proclaimed the "Band Blare", an informal dance held Friday evening, April 8, in the college gym, from 8:30 - 11:30 p.m.

Music for both smooth-swaying numbers, and five pieces was provided by the CWCEans, a 17-piece band, composed entirely of college students, and under the direction of Mr. A. Bert Christianson.

Colorful decorations consisted of band figure statues at each entrance to the dancing floor area; yellow and white streamers forming a simulated ceiling; cutouts of different musical instruments being played, for each window and for the walls; and a large sparkling silver music note suspended above the dance floor. Novel lighting effects were achieved with blue, green, rose and yellow-covered spotlights.

At intermission, Miss Maxine Houston sang Irving Berlin's recent song release, "I'll Remember to Miss You", and George Ice sang, "A little Bird Told Me". Both were accompanied by the band. During the dancing, Bill Gleason was featured in a solo, "More Than You Know."

Refreshments of cookies and punch were served from a lace-covered table.

Chairmen for the dance were George Moergeli and Jim Smith. Soft chairs and davenports added to the comfort of the large number of students and faculty members attending.

Candidates For Miss Kittitas Are Central Girls

Candidates for Miss Kittitas were presented for endorsement by a special A.W.S. meeting, Monday, April 11. Presidents of each women's living organization were asked to give the names of two girls a candidate and an alternate, which were nominated by the residents of each hall.

Four criterias for choosing the candidates were "personality, talent, how she appears in an evening dress," and the inevitable, "how she looks in a bathing suit." Talent, it was explained does not merely include music, art, or writing talent, but a candidate who can give an intelligent talk on some subject is accepted very creditably. Also other requirements are that the age of the nominee be between 18 and 25, and unmarried.

All of the candidates will have sponsors, and the alternates will receive sponsorship if it possibly can be procured. The whole contest is under the management of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and on the Campus is being handled by A. W.S. All contestants receive the bathing suit and the evening dress which they appear in at the judging, and the winner receives an extra monetary prize.

The candidates as chosen by their halls are Kamola; Joyce Bonlee, candidate; Lorraine Temple, alternate; Sue Lombard, Marie Ramquist, candidate, Eva Eyres, alternate; Elwood, Mary Lou Shaver;

....MUSIC NOTES....

By John Eyres

And so, the stems of the "Music Notes" change hands for the Spring quarter and with them go the inside "dope" of the music department. My only wish as a neophyte columnist is that I may, at least partially, reach the point of perfection that my predecessor, Doug Poage, achieved.

Well, it seems there is no rest for the music department. After the choir combined so beautifully with local residents and faculty members and presented the fine performance of the "Messiah" last Sunday evening, they must set out on their annual concert tour to the western portion of Washington next week. May they be as well received as they were last year by over 30,000 people over the State.

"Rumors Are Flying"! Yes, rumors are flying all over the music department these days about the combined plans of choir director Wayne S. Hertz and band director, A. Bert Christianson. Nothing as yet if definite but the two are trying to cook up a combined concert in Yakima sometime in the near future.

Wayne Hertz might easily qualify for the title of "the busiest man of the Central Washington campus". Within the short time of only four weeks, he must travel to all corners of the state to direct music festival choruses. Among the places he will be visiting are Aberdeen, Everett and Montana. This of course, is all in excess of his regular duties as choir director and head of the music department here at Central—let's give a big hand for Mr. Hertz; he'll need it!

"Any lab?"

Off Campus, Lois Dryden, candidate, Helen Olsen, alternate; Kennedy, Harriet Cushing, candidate, Barbara Bell, alternate; candidate-at-large as requested by some of the local merchants as representing the whole campus was Mae Asselstine.

Judging has been set for Friday, April 29, in the College Elementary Auditorium. There the contestants will be judged on their talent and looks.

LEE-EGGER

Saturday, April 2 Miss Gwen Egger of Seattle revealed the news of her engagement to Mr. Bill Lee also of Seattle.

A party was held in room 124 of new Kamola with about 12 guest attending. The news of the engagement was made known by means of a nicely decorated cake and chocolate easter eggs with the names Bill and Gwen inscribed on them.

The bride elect is a junior at Central and is majoring in Art. Before coming here she attended the University of Washington. Mr. Lee is a sophomore and is prominent in school athletics.

No date has been set for the wedding.

SABO-BISHOP

April 1 was the date that Miss Renie Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bishop of Bremerton revealed her engagement to Calvin Sabo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Sabo of Los Angeles, California. The news was announced to a group of Miss Bishop's close friends.

Miss Bishop is a junior, majoring in speech and Mr. Sabo is a sophomore majoring in biology.

No date has been set for the wedding.

How did you learn to kiss like that?"

"Siphoning gas."

Wildcats Drop Two; Win One From Willamette U.

The invading baseball forces of Willamette University captured a two out of three more series from Central's diamond nine by scores of 17 to 11, 2 to 4, and 11 to 3 last Friday and Saturday. Willamette's outstanding infield play was one of the highlights of the series.

Twenty-nine hits turned the first contest into a slug fest. In Willamette's first, the lead off man grounded out. In order followed a single, a strike-out, and a walk. The fifth man flied out to retire the side.

Central, in their half, mustered three hits, one of which was a triple by Jim Satterlee, and with the help of an error tallied five runs.

The visitors scored one run in the second on a home run by Lenz.

McCullough Triples

McCullough's triple and Sherwood's and Wright's singles figured in the Wildcat's two runs scored in the second. The score then stood 7 to 1 in favor of the locals.

Willamette rapped in four runs in the third and their rally was highlighted by a triple by Matile.

Stan Roseboro greeted the opposition with a home run in the third, which accounted for the scoring in that half of the inning.

Banging out six hits and with the assistance of an error, Willamette rapped the locals for six runs in the fourth thus making the score 11 to 8 in the Oregonian's favor.

Sherwood Doubles

Led by Ralph Sherwood, who doubled, the Wildcats got three hits and tallied three more runs, in the fourth, to knot the score at 11 all. Willamette bounced right back with five hits and five runs in the fifth.

The Wildcats were retired in order in their half of the fifth, and the invaders went down one, two, three in the sixth.

Central went by the boards in the sixth on a ground out, a fielder's choice, and a strike-out.

Willamette finished off the scoring in the last inning when they whacked out a triple and a single for two runs. Central went out in order in the seventh.

The final tabulation was 18 hits, 17 runs, and 2 errors for Willamette and 11 runs, 11 hits, and 2 errors for the Sweezy lads.

Second Game

Don Lannoye pitched excellent ball in the second contest as he faced nineteen men, struck out six, and was touched for only three hits. He struck out the last two men to face him.

Willamette gathered two of their three hits in the first inning which accounted for one run.

Central bounced right back in their half of the inning to tie the score when Wayne Wright legged-out a home-run inside the park.

Lannoye set the opposition down with three strike-outs in the second.

A fielder's choice, a walk, and a single, by Gerry Marks, accounted for two more runs for the Wildcats in the second and made the score 3 to 1 in favor of the locals.

Again in the third inning the visitors were set down in order.

In their half of the third, Central whacked out two hits and scored one more run to increase their lead to 4 to 1.

For the third inning in succession the Willamette nine went down one, two, three.

Harvey Wood doubled in the fourth and was Central's only base runner in that frame.

Markoskie Homers

Markoskie accounted for Willamette's last tally as he smashed the horsehide over the right-center field fence for the longest hit of the series. Willamette's fifth ended the contest because of the time element. The game's arithmetic was as follows, Central—4 runs, 5 hits, and 1 error. Willamette—2 runs, 3 hits and 1 error.

Final Contest

Wildcat errors in the final contest ultimately led to their defeat. Frank Osborne started this game for the locals and Scrivens hurled for the opposition.

Not a runner saw second base until Willamette's half of the third, when two errors and a hit cost the Wildcats three runs.

Central was retired one, two, three in their half of the third.

With the help of another error and two hits, Willamette poled in two more runs changing the score to 5-0.

The locals failed to score in the fourth and Willamette did the same in the fifth.

In the Wildcat fifth, three hits and an error aided the Sweezy gang in pushing across two tallies which changed the score to 5-2 in favor of the opposition.

Willamette and Central both failed to tally in the sixth stanza.

The invaders knocked out two hits and gathered another run in their half of the seventh.

The Wildcats were retired in order in the seventh, as were the visitors in their half of the eighth.

Last Runs In Eighth

The local diamond dusters bunched two bingos in the eighth to score their last run. The score then reading 6 for Willamette 3 for Central.

The Oregonians exploded in the ninth and finished off two days of baseball with five hits and utilized the Wildcat's three errors in scoring five runs.

The final reading was Willamette—11 runs, 11 hits, and 1 error; Central—3 runs, 7 hits, and 7 errors.

Job Competition Grows As College Rolls Rise

Record-breaking college enrollments since the end of the war will, in the next few years, result in increased competition for professional and administrative jobs, a Bureau of Labor Statistics report, prepared for Veterans Administration, revealed.

Because of the unprecedented number of college graduates entering the labor market, the report said, employment requirements for many jobs "are likely to be raised."

The report suggests that veterans with college degrees in liberal arts. A veteran seeking advisement and guidance from VA "should be made aware of the competition which he is likely to meet in many fields," the report said. "He will be well-advised to consider more of the less-crowded though perhaps less-glamorous fields, and to take courses

PLC Opens Two Game Series With Cats Friday

It's baseball again on Tomlinson Field Friday afternoon at 1:30 when the P.L.C. Gladiators, 1948 Winco champs, invade the home roost for a double-header against the Central Washington Wildcats.

Both games will be seven inning affairs. Coach Marv Tommervik's nine will again be at top strength and a leading contender for the new Evergreen baseball crown.

The Gladiators come to town with an impressive record behind them in the still early season. Chief among their wins is a two-out-of-four-series win over Seattle University's Chieftains. Last week they copped a doubleheader from the Seattle club 3-2 and 7-1.

A well-supplied mound staff with experienced chuckers will give the Cats trouble. Due to see action sometime during the two contests will be either righthanders Gerry Hefty or Wayne Brock, and southpaws Lowell Knutson and Ted Strankman. Wes Saxton, who started one of the games last year but was driven to the showers in the sixth frame, will also be back.

Probable lineup for the Lute infield will find Bud Hatley behind the plate and Paul Rieman, last year's catcher, on the initial sack. Harold Snow will probably be on the keystone sack, with Vern Morris at short. Morris is a fine hitter getting a wealth of raps against the Cats last year and displaying a fine arm and a pair of flashing cleats on the paths.

Coach Arne Faust will open the first game with Billy Lee on the mound and a somewhat changed infield and outfield from last week's Willamette series. Don Lannoye, 4-2 winner over Willamette, will be in there with that flashing fast ball in the second game. Relief hurlers Whitener, Wilson, Louderbach, and Robinson will be set in case of trouble.

Feller Answers Fans; Says Not 'All Washed Up'

Bob Feller puts the blast on critics who intimate he's finished as a star pitcher in a copyrighted story appearing in the current issue of Sport magazine, now on the news-stands. In fact, the Cleveland immortal predicts that it is "dangerous on the part of my American League opponents to assume that I am all washed up as a winning pitcher."

In his own estimation, says Bob in sport, "I'm being complimented when somebody writes, 'Feller had a lousy year in 1948. He only won 19 games.' Worse things could happen to a pitcher, believe me."

"All I am saying," continues Feller, "is that I couldn't have fallen apart at the seams, as some people would have you think, or I wouldn't have missed my sixth 20-game season by such a small margin."

Bob reports a back injury suffered late in 1947 threw him off until the dog days of mid-summer of 1948. In his last ten starts, he points out, he won seven and lost only one game. Another contest was an 11-inning tie and the other was an overtime affair in which he was lifted for a pinch-hitter.

For the first time, Bob admits the unmerciful razzing he took after the All-Star game "pull-out" affected him for a while. He doesn't blame the fans, the Cleveland ace reveals in Sport, because they didn't know the real story behind his famous withdrawal. By the time Bill Veeck, Cleveland owner admitted Bob stayed out by his order, Feller

MIA Ball Rules Come Out Of Monday's Meeting

6. The M.I.A. constitution will be the official constitution.
7. Softball will be considered a major sport and will receive points accordingly.

A chemistry prof asked his class what they considered the most outstanding contribution that chemistry has made to the world. The first student to answer said, "Blondes."

THE PRESS BOX

By Bob Slingland

Tennis gets back into the swing of things, as the local racquet wielders prepare for another season on the courts. Leroy Isherwood from last year's squad and Don Duncan from the squad of '47 are the only returning lettermen. Up from last year's squad, but non-lettermen are Al Adams, Jim Bickford, and Bernie Norton. Dean Nicholson, rated number three man on last year's squad, will not turn out for tennis this year but will play baseball instead.

Howie Odell's University of Washington Huskies donned the pads and head-gear last week for the first scrimmage of spring practice. Odell had a wealth of material, 113, on hand for the first day. No less than 13 men gave up that warm California sunshine to come up to the Evergreen state and play ball. Could the lure of money drag the boys out of that ideal (?) climate or was it just the magic name "Odell"?

Up to last week Sammy White had smacked out seven hits, for 19 trips for a neat .368. The ex-U. W. basketball and baseball star will be making his home debut with the Rainiers this week.

Plans for the new athletic field, to be located on Walnut street, a block past Kennedy Hall, call for a 14 acre plot that will brighten the heart of any Central athlete. Just to get an idea of the size of the land to be used: blueprints call for a separate track, football field, baseball field, and practice field with parking space for cars three deep.

High school athletes throughout the nation are gaining recognition lately as spring brings them out on the oval and basepaths. Take young left-hander named Frank Fowell, of Long Beach Woodrow Wilson High school who has pitched seven games thus far: three shutouts and four no-hitters. Not a man has scored off him in 49 straight innings.

Another high schooler hit the news last week, this time in track as Fletcher Giles, of Detroit Northwestern —High school soared over the crossbar in the pole vault at 13 feet 2½ inches to break the national indoor high school record of 13 feet 2 inches set 19 years ago.

CPS and Seattle College battle it out for 13 innings last week before Seattle could score a man to break a 6-6 deadlock. In the unlucky 13th, a throw from the Tacoma catcher to second bounced off the second baseman's shoulder and rolled into left field and the runner went all the way around with the winning run.

To date 10 Colleges and five Junior Colleges have signified they will be in hand in Olympia on May 7 for the third annual St. Martin's relays. Those entered thus far are: PLC, CPS, Seattle Pacific College, Western, UBC, Central (defending champs), Eastern, North Nazarene College of Nampa, Idaho, Portland U, Oregon College of Education, and St. Martins. Junior College entries include: Grays Harbor, Vanport, Clark, Everett, and Skagit Valley.

Word was handed in to the office of the Director of Physical Education Monday afternoon that two more wallets had been stolen. This makes about the fourth case this year. It makes this reporter quite ill to think that some guy who is no doubt posing as my friend is stealing myself and my college friends blind. I tip my hat to the rat and if you're reading this column Mr. Rat may I say we are going to catch you yet! !

basis of allocation such as average or maximum scholarship amounts, and that it take into account the need for increasing annual amounts to provide for renewals.

The 693 participants in the conference, sponsored by the department of higher education of the National Education Association, came from all parts of the United States.

In another resolution, the conference study group on interpreting academic freedom maintained that "insuring loyalty to the nation is a special responsibility of the government and insuring the teacher's loyalty to truth and fairness in the presentation of facts is a responsibility of the teaching profession."

Legislation affecting the loyalty status of teachers, the resolution asserted, should be confined to their conduct as citizens. Objection was voiced to special investigations and restrictive legislation which singles out educators as a target.

"Members of college faculties have a responsibility, both to their students and to the society of which they are a part, to encourage open and searching analysis of all significant human institutions and systems of thought", the group reported.

Besides participating in the national conference on higher education, Dr. McConnell also attended a meeting of the executive board of the American Association of Colleges for Teachers Education while he was in Chicago. The executive board appealed to President Truman to push for legislation in congress for federal aid to elementary and secondary schools.

CIVIC THEATER GROUP WILL SPONSOR PLAY

Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" will be a presentation of the Ellensburg Civic Theatre Group April 20 and 21 in the Central Auditorium at 8:15. Tickets will be available either downtown in various designated places or at the door on the night of the performance.

The production is under the direction of Helen Flint and will probably be the only major play given this season, by this group.

The story has been described as an improbable farce in three acts. It revolves around the character of Elvira, 7-years dead, former wife of Charles, who materializes during a seance. Again in the real world, she concentrates her efforts on killing Charles, so that he may return with her to the spirit world. She succeeds rather, in killing Ruth, the heart interest of Charles since Elvira's death. Ruth also re-materializes during a seance, with the result that two spirits are floating through the remaining acts. It all ends on a very favorable, cheerful note.

The cast of characters for the dramatization includes: Edith, Peggy Orr; Ruth, Lee Spurrier; Charles, Gene Leonard; Madame Arcate, Margaret Miller; Dr. Bradman, Don Spears; Mrs. Bradman, Mary Vance; and Elvira, Jean Turner.

In this life you are given two ends, one to sit upon and one to think with. Your success will depend upon which you use more. Heads you win; tails you lose!

Museum of Modern Art Has Display In Ad. Bldg.

The photographic display being shown in the walkway of the Ad. Building should be of interest to all people who are interested in pictures and the stories that they tell. This display is part of series of art posters sent out by the Museum of Modern Art of New York City.

The pictures for the posters were done through the cooperation of Andreas Feiniger and a host of noted civilian and military photographers. These remarkable studies from the placid rural life scenes through industry to the conflicts of the war orphans in the European countries were done with the one thought of know what you want and how to achieve it.
